

How To Become A Certified Geek Therapist Flow Chart

Utilize geek cultural artifacts to eliminate communication barriers, improve conversations, understand cognitive perspectives, diagnose, and treat conditions.

Certified Geek Therapist

A Certified Geek Therapist helps you as the professional meet the client where they are at. By utilizing these specially curated training and cultural artifacts, you are able to help your clients with change, progress, and becoming better versions of themselves. By being trained in this type of therapy using role-playing, fantasy, fandoms, and personal identities you are able to establish a connection, encourage interaction, demonstrate analogous real-life experiences, and to facilitate personal and intrinsic growth for your clients through a geek-centric lens. As many people relate to mythological stories of heroes and fandoms, this training certification allows you to help your peers understand how to use these fandoms for personal growth. You are also able to distinguish yourself from other professionals by being able to use a specific logo that is licensed to you after completing the required training and being put on our special registry for clients to find you.

How do I become a Certified Geek Therapist?

- Step 1: Subscribe to Geek Therapy Education by choosing either the Legendary or Mythic package getting access to all of our courses.
- Step 2: Take Cultural Competency courses.
- Step 3: Take a Cultural Competency Exam.
- Step 4: Take 28 additional hours of classes (all included in your subscription!)
- Step 5: Take the 12 consultation hours with a Certified Geek Therapist.
- Step 6: Take the Certified Geek Therapist Exam.

For more information on how to start your epic journey to becoming a Certified Geek Therapist, click here.

